DETAILED ACTION

1. Upon further review of the claims, the examiner has discovered that the claims can be further restricted based on the separate embodiments set forth in the instant application (see explanation below).

Election/Restrictions

2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Claims 55-60 are directed to the video game system in close proximity to one other, where the game devices can transmit (to each other) picture signals containing the synchronization signals. See Figure 15 for the illustration of the system defined in claims 55-60.

Claims 68-75 are directed to the video game system disclosed in Figure 9, where multiple video game devices play a game over a television network, where synchronization signals are received over a satellite communications link and status change information is transmitted over a telephone communications link. The examiner notes that only the synchronization information is received over the television network.

Claim 76 is directed to the video game system disclosed in Figure 10, which provides a television network to exchange synchronization information and provides a telephone communications network for exchanging status change information through a host computer.

Claims 77-83 are directed to the synchronization processing method disclosed in any of Figures 11, 12 or 13.

The species are independent or distinct because they each provide a separate embodiment that provides a different type of communications network and method for playing a video game using multiple video game devices.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Conclusion

3. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jason P. Salce whose telephone number is (571) 272-7301. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 9am-6pm.
